Section 2: Introduction

The Client engaged Full Hospital Name Here's (Short Name Here) leadership team as part of The Client's ongoing professional services to review Short Name Here's current OB Emergency Department (OBED) Charge Level Worksheet, as well as to conduct a sample audit of 50 OBED facility fee charges in order to provide recommendations around optimizing OBED documentation and charge capture processes. All findings and recommendations contained within this report are designed to provide general observations in line with The Client nationally benchmarked data and related experience. Ultimate charge capture policies, processes and documentation guidelines should be developed by Short Name Here in conjunction with appropriate compliance and billing guidance per Short Name Here's normal business operations.

The Client's assigned Compliance Medical Educator and Auditor completed a review of Short Name Here's OBED Charge Level Worksheet, reviewed documentation of medical records provided, and compared actual billed charges to charges deemed billable when utilizing The Client's OBED Charge Level Worksheet for patient visits randomly selected from the preceding year. The audited charges spanned dates of service from July 1, 2022 through July 28, 2022.

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) does not mandate a specific method or set of criteria for determining the correct outpatient facility visit code level. Facilities are therefore allowed the discretion to employ any industry or internal model for their billing of outpatient visit charges. However, CMS does recommend that facilities have a written internal policy, consistently applied, to guide their billing and charge capture process.

Short Name Here uses an intervention-based scoring tool for OBED services, provided by Change Healthcare. Short Name Here's OBED visit coding conformed to their tool, though some visits were coded as outpatient E/M services and did not conform to the tool.

Section 3: The Client National Benchmark Data Comparison

The Client's current national footprint is comprised of approximately 250 hospital partners spanning over 20 states. More than 90% of The Client hospital partners have implemented and utilize and OBED Type A setting for the management of obstetrical patients. The Client reviewed Short Name Here's reported facility fee trends from June 2021 through June 2022. The results were as follows:

Section 5: OBED Facility Fee Findings and Recommendations

Chart Review Results Overview

As previously outlined in the Executive Summary, The Client believes that Short Name Here has an opportunity to enhance its OBED charge level assignment to appropriately provide additional diagnosis and complaints not currently available yet reflected in the medical record documentation. All fifty (50) OBED patient charts were reviewed for the documentation available in the medical record, and then audited utilizing both Short Name Here's OBED Coding Summaries as well as The Client's OBED Charge Level Worksheet. Below outlines the relative facility fee distribution utilizing the two different methods, as well as average pre and post audit average acuity.
